Richardson County Cemetery Project

Richardson County Cemeteries have been walked and indexed by the Tri-State Corners Genealogical Society as a project for the Nebraska State Genealogical Society (NSGS). Jorene Herr and Dorothy Lewis have compiled the records of all the county cemeteries into six volumes divided by precincts. A set of these volumes is in the public libraries in Humboldt and Falls City. These are also available for purchase from NSGS.Nebraska State Genealogical Society. Following are the links to the map and index for each volume and to the combined index.

1. Volume 1-Franklin, Porter, East Muddy, West Muddy Precincts (NW part of County)
2. Volume 2-Barada, Ohio, Arago Precincts (NE part of County)
3. Volume 3-Grant, Liberty, Salem Precincts (Central)
4. Volume 4-Falls City (except Steele Cemetery) , Jefferson, Rulo Precincts (SE County)
5. Volume 5-Humboldt, Speiser, Nemaha Precincts (Western part of County)
6. Volume 6-Steele Cemetery (Falls City)

THE PARTCHES 1727-1946

Compiled by George E. Partch and Mary Dunlava Tellefson

Date, 1946

PREFACE

Work on this history began about nine years ago. My father Homer W. Partch was born in Vermont and knew something of his own and the preceding generations and spent sometime writing to relatives to supplement his own knowledge. In 1882 he received a letter from "Aunt Clara", Mrs Ezbon Partch, giving a list of his father's brothers and sisters and their children. A copy of this letter sent to me while I was in China formed a basis for my investigations. A generation and more have passed away since 1882 and at first it was difficult to link up discoveries with my father's generations.

Our furlough from missionary work in China came due in 1926 and we returned to the U.S.A. via Europe to New York. This was my first visit to the east and I determined to visit my father's birthplace near Monkton, Vt. My wife also had relatives in Vermont, one of whom I discovered to be a second cousin of mine. We went to Vergennes, Bristol, Hinesburg and finally found the old house near Monkton. It was an unpainted building. The beams had been hewed out by hand and nails had been made by hand. No one had lived there for years but it was a substantial building and could easily have been made habitable. Relatives that we found at Bristol and Hinesburg and New Haven told us traditions of the family and indicated where some of the descendants had gone. We returned to China in January 1927 and for ten years more were busy with our work there. Toward the close of the year 1936 it became evident that the health of my wife and myself would not justify our stay in China. The doctors sent us to southern California. In Pasadena we were told of other Partches in the city and comparing notes with them we found that we all came from the Vermont nest. I grew up in northeastern Kansas where we knew a few families of Partch descent. From these small beginnings our knowledge has grown till we now have about two thousand descendants of Quinton Patch and his wife Mercy; the first of our ancestry in America.

In 1942 we made the acquaintance of Mrs. Mary Dunlava Tellefson who also was much interested in the family history. We started a correspondence and in 1944 she visited Glendale. She had gathered considerable information by writing to libraries as well as individuals. We exchanged information. At first this work was undertaken as a hobby, but as our material increased we decided that one of the ways we could serve posterity would be to put it in permanent form to conserve the information now available. Mrs. Tellefson is to be credited with the major part of the work involved. Some of the early history in Vermont was collected by Hiram Calkins Jr. who was once a librarian in New York City. His widow who lives in Los Angeles, Calif. has made available to us this material. Aside from a part of Quinton's descendants we have not been able to discover any connection with other Patch families in America several of whom came to this country a hundred years before Quinton and Mary Patch. For all the help of relatives giving us data from family Bibles and records of certain branches of the family, and the results of their own investigations, we are grateful. We have discovered no record which undertakes the history on such a large scale as this. It is possible errors have crept into our work. If such are discovered we will be grateful if you will inform us; Mrs. Mary D. Tellefson's present address is 51 Sixth Ave. N. Fargo, No. Dak., and my present address is 1012 East Maple St., Glendale, Calif.

Autobiography of Rev. George E. Partch

To add to the human interest of this history as well as to create a little more sympathy for the poor and suffering masses of China, and because of my belief that Christianity gives the hope for resolving her problems this biographical sketch is added.

My earthly life began May 19, 1869 in a log house near Chester, Howard County, Iowa. I was little more than three years of age when my parents moved to Highland, Doniphan County, Kansas, where father had purchased a farm. Early education was secured in the district schools of the vicinity, but when the proper time came, I began studies in the academic department of the college which had been founded in Highland. This was interrupted by the family's movements; first to Omaha Mission, Nebr. where father superintended a school for Indian boys and girls, and later when he moved to Hiawatha, Kansas. I joined them and took advantage of such educational privileges as were available, but in 1886 I entered the freshman class at Highland College. I helped what I could with the farm work and was graduated in due time, in 1890. It was expected that I would teach a district school, which I did for several months. Then pneumonia put me on my back and when convalescing was over it was necessary to find another job. I took work with a local bank, a position I held 15 months, then left home to attend McCormick Seminary in Chicago, Ill. My interest in mission work had been stirred in various ways. My older brother had gone to Ningpo, China in 1888 under the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. Missionary interest was being promoted in the college at that time. Two motives led me to give my life to that cause: (1) the great need in foreign lands where the gospel message had never been proclaimed, and (2) our duty to obey the great commission, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature". To these should be added: (3) the effect on the church itself, and (4) the effect on world peace.

I was married Sept. 3, 1895 to Miss Hannah E. Taylor, a graduate of Grinnell College with two years experience in teaching at Highland College. We had been accepted by the Board and sailed from San Francisco October 1st, arriving in Shanghai, China, October 27. The members of the station gave us a warm welcome. We were housed, temporarily, with Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Silsby. Mr. Silsby had already been on the field for eight years and his furlough was due, but he continued to serve for two years more that we might have a proper start in the study of the language. We could have assisted in the teaching of English in the Lowrie High School for boys but it would have interfered with our study, which was of supreme importance for the sake of our future efficiency. So for three hours a day (sometimes four or five) we "boned" away reading Chinese books printed in the local dialect. We also attended the meetings in the church. It was a jargon of words to us at first, but whenever we could catch a word or a phrase we put it down in our note books, and asked our Chinese personal teacher the meaning as soon as we had opportunity. Also, we went out in the street, asking the shopkeepers or passersby the Chinese names of things, or we listened to the Chinese conversing together and got words that way. Gradually, our vocabulary increased and we began to engage in conversation with our teacher and with others. We often made amusing mistakes, but our teacher was patient with us. Our Chinese pastor of the Chinese church asked me to preach after I had been out about a year. The Chinese were very polite and said I had done very well in this maiden effort, but we had learned to take their praise with a grain of salt. I spent my main effort in getting the local dialect. After some months, I began the study of Wen li the classical language, and after some years the study of Chinese newspapers which, from the nature of the case, was a variation of the classical language. But always it was the spoken language which engaged my chief attention. People ask me how long it took to get the language. I say it took me 37 years to get what I did get of it for no one ever gets it all, but one does learn to make himself understood reasonably well.

Rev. and Mrs. Silsby went for their furlough in 1897 and I was left to superintend the Boys' Boarding School. We had then forty boys, all we had room for, and three Chinese teachers. The building was an old two story Chinese house purchased in the early days of our mission work in Shanghai. The back wall had to be propped up with poles to prevent its collapse. The curriculum corresponded roughly with a High School course in America. Most of the subjects were taught in Chinese but English was taught as a subject. I taught the English readers. My wife also taught some of the English. After a time I began to teach some of the simpler Chinese books: a catechism which told the first principles of Christian doctrine, then a New Testament history and then an Old Testament history. Later, for the sake of getting familiar with the Chinese books and language, I taught arithmetic. About 1898 one of my teachers left me for higher wages elsewhere just at the beginning of the school term when it was difficult to secure another. It was necessary to teach more of the Chinese subjects myself: General History which required heavy work preparing the lessons and Algebra and Geometry. I was expected to lead morning chapel service in turn with the Chinese teachers. The matter of discipline proved a burden. The result was a breakdown and an enforced vacation, but in time I was back in my classes again. It was the period just following the Japanese War; a renaissance of learning, Western learning, became popular. The graduates turned out from our mission schools had proved themselves efficient men and women. So, instead of special inducements to pupils, we began to charge fees. We could not meet the demands of teachers for higher salaries and the appropriations from the Mission Board were not sufficient. We asked the pupils to buy their own books and gradually increased the fees. More pupils came than we could accommodate so we began entrance examinations, choosing the pupils which gave the most promise of becoming successful students; but giving priority to the children of our own church members.

Early in 1900 political clouds began to appear in the north. They became blacker and blacker and in early summer the storm burst. Rumors became more and more threatening. We did not feel safe at night. Chinese gunboats appeared at the mouth of our river which easily could have destroyed the settlement; and all one night we slept "with one ear open". Morning came and it became evident the ships were not hostile. But anxiety for Pekin, where our friends in the Legation were besieged by the Boxers, increased day by day. Parents of our boys became anxious and one by one came to take their sons, so finally we dismissed the school without holding the final examinations. We feared for our buildings. While the school was in session members of the Municipal Volunteer Corps. from the Foreign Concession had come out to patrol our property and some of the older boys from the school had faithfully helped. The Captain of an American gunboat had promised us help in case of trouble, but he did not wish to endanger his Marines if it was not necessary. So we decided that all the missionaries should leave the South Gate and take refuge in the International Settlement where there was protection. Worse and worse came the rumors from Pekin. July 4th. the news came that all the foreigners in Pekin had been killed. A baseball game between the Shanghai local club and the Marines from the American gunboat had been listed, but it was a listless game. It was several days before new information got out from the capital. Finally, August 13th. the allied troops reached the Legation and our friends were released. It was not safe to start the school again till about November 1st. Our families did not move down to the South Gate till January 1, 1901. The property had been put in care of the local official. He had stationed soldiers on the compound and the property had not been injured; a few things had been stolen from the house.

A few of our pupils had gone elsewhere, one of our teachers had died, but in time we were running again at full capacity. Mr. Silsby had gone into other work and we continued to run the school. In 1903 our furlough came due and Mr. Silsby took charge again. We left early in May; hot weather was coming on. My wife had symptoms of Tropical Sprue and our physician said we must get home before it got hot. There were visits to make in America and some speaking to be done. We did what we could for Mrs. Partch's disease but at the close of our furlough conditions would not justify her return to China. I went back alone, leaving my wife and Wallace, the boy who had come to gladden our home, to spend the winter in Colorado Springs. On returning to the South Gate I decided to go into the country evangelistic work, which had been neglected. One Chinese evangelist was living in the country east of the river. Together we toured the towns and villages and hamlets of the plain preaching, selling Christian books and calendars. We invited people to the Chapel. Sunday morning and afternoon we held services in the guest-room of the rented quarters where we lived. I preached in the morning and the Chinese evangelist in the afternoon. Gradually we gathered a congregation. I closed my eyes in prayer one day, and opened them to find about half the audience gone. We had to explain what prayer was and told them we were not trying to mesmerize them. We also told them we did not put medicine in the tea to "hoo-doo" them into becoming Christians. In time several were enrolled as inquirers. Meanwhile, at home, Mrs. Partch was having her "ups and downs" at times better and getting along well and then a relapse. What should I do? Where was my duty? In July a cable called me home, she was worse. So, posthaste, I packed my trunk and sailed for Van Couver, B. C., made my way to Avoca, Iowa, where she was staying. Her condition was uncertain. I resigned and took a pastorate at Spaulding, Nebr. She lingered on at times she seemed better, but August 18, 1907 she passed away. The boy stayed with me for awhile but it became evident I could not do my pastoral work and give him proper attention. I took him to my sister in Jewell City, Kans. and from that time she and my brother took care of him till he started for college. I returned to China in 1910 taking up the country work again. It was "all things to all men" trying to get the message across. Gradually we secured more Chinese workers and new cities were opened up. At one time, we had eight out-stations where we held Sunday services. At times we held special services, going from place to place as opportunity suggested. At Chinese New Year we held classes for inquirers and church members. Many of those could not read. We taught them the hymns, encouraged them to pray, and received them into the church when they were ready for it. We also taught them to take care of their food, their houses, and themselves; the principles of hygeine. Cholera was prevalent at times and we lost church members from that disease. Tuberculosis was an ever present danger and they needed instruction to escape that disease. One of our Elders and one of our Deacons died from typhoid. It could have been avoided if they had taken proper care.

The first big Revolution, which drove the Manchus from the throne, took place in October 1911. The second Revolution came in 1913. I was in Shanghai when it began. About three in the morning we heard the first shots. Mr. Montgomery, my colleague, and I got up about 4:00 o'clock there was too much going on to permit sleep. We dressed, walked around and saw the southern soldiers hiding just outside of our compound. Yuan Shih Kais gunboats in the river back of the arsenal, about a mile away, were firing over the arsenal at those soldiers. We went back up to Montgomery's room. He called my attention to the whistling sound of the shells and the noise of the machine guns. A shell came over and passed to the west of us and burst. Then one came over and burst to the east of us. Then one came over and I said, "that one is coming close." The words were scarcely out of my mouth when it burst in our yard to the west of us about 25 feet away. We went downstairs avoiding door-ways and windows. After the firing ceased we went up again and found on the floor pieces of glass and brass chain which binds the butt of a shell. Looking up we saw a hole in the transom. Outside window shutters folded back against the wall had been broken and crushed. There were holes in the wire netting which protected the verandah. Another missionary in a house just across the way, a lady, called out to us, "Are you allright?" Mr. Fitch," she said, "has phoned down to ask if you are allright." After dinner we went uptown to the more secure protection of the Settlement. Fro several nights there was fighting near the arsenal. When the battle was over we moved back to South Gate. Bullets had struck several places and furniture in our house was disfigured. The Bau Memorial Hall had been struck by a shell and the Chapel where the Boys School held their Chapel services showed where the pieces had struck the memorial tablet.

I went home on furlough again in 1917 and spent about six months in study. In July, 1918, I married Dr. Julia N. Wood, a graduate of Buffalo Medical College, who had served for six years on the staff of the Margaret Williamson hospital at the West Gate, Shanghai, under the Women's Union Mission. Her furlough came just a few months earlier than mine. We were delayed slightly by the war and a passport mixup, but reached Shanghai November 5th. just before the close of the first World War.

I returned to the country where my work was much the same, and yet it was different. My wife's deep sympathy for the Chinese, her ability to make friends, her professional skill, her wise counsel and companionship made the work much easier and more effective. In 1925 occurred the Louza Police Station riot. Students making a demonstration because of conditions in a Japanese factory were fired upon by the police of the International Settlement after they had persisted in pressing themselves upon the station. Nine were killed. The pupils in our South Gate schools joined in the strike, made stump speeches upon the streets urging the people everywhere to resist the foreigners. We had been urging the Chinese to take more responsibility in our mission work and now we found ourselves blamed for holding on to any authority whatever. New adjustments were necessary. Chinese principals were put at the head of both the boys' and the girls' boarding school. The anti-foreign turn of affairs took an anti-Christian form. The school had been registered with the government. Religion could no longer be taught in the school. Attendance at Chapel service, which must be held in a building separate from the school proper, was made optional. The difficulty was obviated by having optional Bibal classes and the organization of a students' church, where a student committee of pupils from the schools invited Christian Chinese leaders from outside to address the pupils, the pupils conducting the opening exercises. Many of the pupils of their own accord attended this service at 9:00 A.M. every Sunday morning in the church outside of the compound. As a matter of fact, many of the members of the church had come and continued to come from the student body. At one time all the elders but one were former pupils of mine, also some of the deacons. The anti-foreign feeling had abated when we left China in 1937.

When the southerners drove north in 1927 and captured Nanking, excitement was high and there was fighting in North Shanghai. We again left South Gate and moved to safer quarters. We improved our time by attending a language school taking such subjects as newspaper reading, mission administration, the Buddist religion; with special lectures from Chinese and foreigners. We were back at the South Gate by October 1st. and soon were at our work in the country again.

In 1932 the Japanese picked a quarrel with the Chinese and attacked Chapei, the northern suburb of Shanghai. That is when we lost the efficient pastor of our Fitch Memorial church, the second Presbyterian church. The Japanese surrounded the church and manse and arrested the pastor, his wife, his nephew, other relatives, and his secretary; nine persons in all. They accused him of being anti-Japanese, of concealing arms in the church; all of which was false. They marched them away and when inquiry was made and a request for their release, the Japs made fair promises; but the pastor and the eight others were never heard from again. The pastor's little girl eight years of age was in another part of the premises playing with a companion. She is the only one of the family to survive. The church has taken responsibility for her support. This was the last time we left our "nest" at the South Gate to take refuge in the Settlement. One of the South Gate elders lost his three sons during this carnage. During the fighting Mrs. Partch did valuable service as "ambulance man" caring for wounded refugees and soldiers. Our Chapei Chinese church was destroyed at this time.

When I first arrived at the South Gate we had 131 church members. The second church also known as the Press church had something like 80; and the third or Chapei church had about 50. When we left there were 860 at the South Gate about 500 at the second church and 300 at the Chapei church. The boys' school had 550 pupils and the teachers numbered 40. The Mary Farnham school had 1100 including the kindergarten and primary departments. The country field which had four or five members in 1910, when I began work there, had about 200 when we left.

During World War II our fine church building, put up at a cost of $25,000.00 Chinese currency at the South Gate, was abandoned. Fortunately it escaped fire. The second church was injured somewhat and the Chapei church was destroyed again. In the country one of our Chapels was destroyed, not by the Japanese, but by the disturbed conditions of the region. Rowdies and rescals of the neighborhood took away the wood piece by piece for their own use. Our Chapel at another place was injured and much of the woodwork, floors and stairways in the manse was stolen. The one lady elder of our South Gate church was recently here for a visit bringing the latest news. Church members were scattered more or less both in Shanghai and in the country. Some members sent their families to Szechuen and sought employment in Nanking. The South Gate church now numbers about 800; they are just now returning to their own church building. New preaching points were started when the church was exiled from its own building; at least one of these has split off from the parent church and formed a new church. The conditions in the country are a little obscure but it is thought that there are three places where services are conducted on Sundays. In spite of all that has happened the church has survived the storm.

Quinton Patch of Connecticut and Descendants including the Partches.

The first of the Connecticut Patch family to come to this country from England, sometime in the early part of the eighteenth century, was Quinton Patch. With his twin sister Mary, he was brought here by foster parents who settled in Stamford, Conn.

Mary Patch, born in England in 1727, married Nathaniel Lockwood Jan. 5, 1743 in Connecticut. Nathaniel was born at Stamford, Conn. May 20, 1717, son of Joseph Lockwood and his second wife Margery Webb Lockwood. Nathaniel and Mary Patch Lockwood lived in Stamford until about 1763 when they appear to have moved to Danbury. (For further genealogy of their family see, "Genealogy of Lockwood Family" by Frederic A. Holden and E. Dunbar Lockwood.)

There is a record of Quinton Patch in Stamford in 1745. In 1746 he married Mercy Ambler, who was born in Stamford Nov. 30, 1724. She was the third of ten children born to John Ambler Jr. and his wife Elizabeth. Their family has been traced back to 1640. Mercy was a member of the First Church of Christ in Stamford in 1746 and probably died in Stamford before Quinton and his children moved to Danbury, Conn. as she does not appear on the records of that town. Quinton married second Ruth Cartwright. To this union no children were born. Quinton and Mercy had a family of six children: four sons, Thompson, William, Ezra, and Elijah, and two daughters Rebecca and Sally. Quinton Patch became a Freeman Sept. 1786 in Danbury. Of the sons, the eldest, Thompson, with his family moved to Hinesburg, Vt. in 1796; and for some reason, not definitely known now, that branch of the family changed their name from Patch to Partch, sometime between 1810 and 1820. The other sons of Quinton remained in Danbury and kept the name Patch. In the Vital Records of Danbury is the following entry: Patch, Rebecca married Ebenezer Judd, Aug. 9, 1770, died Apr. 17, 1791. Sally Patch the second daughter of Quinton and Mercy Patch lived to arrive at maturity but no additional record is found. Whether she married or not is not known.

Thompson Patch, the eldest son of Quinton Patch, was born in Stamford, Conn., Sept. 28, 1750. On April 25, 1776 in the Congregational church of Danbury, Conn. (recorded in that church) he married his first cousin Mary Lockwood, who was born Apr. 24, 1757. She was the eighth of twelve children born to Nathaniel and Mary Patch Lockwood (twin sister of Quinton). The Lockwoods lived in Stamford till about 1763 when they moved to Danbury. Quinton Patch and his family moved there later, probably after the Revolutionary War. In October 1796, Thompson and his wife and nine children (one had died) moved from Danbury, Conn. to Hinesburg, Vt. One other child was born there. Of the eleven children of Thompson and Mary Patch, seven sons and one daughter lived to maturity, married and raised large families, and all lived in the vicinity of Hinesburg and Bristol, Vt. Of the seven sons two, John and Thompson Jr., married sisters, Ruby and Lephia Ann Lawrence, as did also Warren and Ezbon, who married respectively, Susannah and Clarissa Stearns. Sometime between 1810 and 1820, Thompson Sr. and his seven sons changed the family name from Patch to Partch. The first change in the family name appears on the census for 1820 when it was recorded Parch. On the census for 1830 it is recorded Partch. The reason for changing the name is not definitely known; one story is that the four brothers quarreled and two of them had their name changed by act of the legislature. There is no record to be found in the files of the Vermont State Legislature to corroborate this story, and there seems to be only the one brother who changed his name. Another story is that a Will which was sent over from England, in which the name was spelled differently, influenced them to make the change. At any rate the change seems to have been made consistently by Thompson Sr. and his seven sons. And as the name Partch does not seem to have been used by others, those bearing it (and they are now scattered over nearly all the states of the Union) are quite definitely related. All the children of Thompson Sr. with two exceptions, Warren who is buried at Hiawatha, Kansas, and Ezbon who migrated with his family in 1841 to Pennsylvania, lived the greater part of their lives in Vermont and are buried there. Thompson Sr. died in Hinesburg, Aug. 6, 1828; his wife Mary, who was also called Polly, died there May 8, 1842.

Quinton and Mercy Patch's second son, William, was born Nov. 10, 1760 in Stamford, Conn. He served in the Revolutionary War in Col. Beardsly's regiment. There is a Patch street, named for him, in Danbury, Conn., where he lived most of his life. He raised a family and some of his descendants now reside in Danbury. William was recorded on the Census of Pensioners in 1840, ages 79 years.

The third son of Quinton and Mercy was Ezra Patch. Ezra had three sons by his first marriage born in Danbury, Conn. Two were hatters in Danbury, but later moved to northern Ohio. The other son became a doctor and settled in New York State. Ezra moved to Georgia and there married a second time and had other children. When the state was divided he was in the part which is now Alabama. There he had a large plantation and about twenty slaves.

The youngest son of Quinton and Mercy was Elijah, who was born October 29, 1769 in Stamford, Conn. On December 17, 1798 he married Susannah Morgan who was born Feb. 23, 1766, of Welsh descent. Susannah Morgan lived on Long Island and was very fond of the water and an expert with a boat. Her people suffered much in the time of the Revolution. Elijah and his family lived in Danbury and he died there Nov. 27, 1814. Susannah Morgan Patch died about 1827 and is buried in Great Plains, Conn. Elijah and Susannah had eight children, five boys and three girls. Their eldest son died at the age of twenty. The second son, Prosper, lived and died on his father's homestead near Danbury, and his descendants are now living at Ridgefield, Conn. He was a woodworker making ploughs and grain cradles. Elijah's third son, Henry, moved to Columbus, Ohio in 1828 with his wife and daughter Harriet. Later he and his wife's brothers built boats and with their families went down the Ohio and up the Mississippi River. They were towed up the river till they came to Prairie du Chien, Wis. which was at that time a military post in the command of General Taylor. This was in 1836. There Henry took up 650 acres of land and built a two-story log cabin. He planted a grove around the cabin and the place became known as Patch Grove; the village there is still known as Patch Grove, Wis. He was the first postmaster and his cabin served as an Inn for the few travelers of that day. He was always on friendly terms with the Indians, and they made him yearly visits as long as he lived. Elijah's fourth child, a daughter, Mary Ann, married and lived in Danbury, Conn. where she and her husband and five children all died of a contagious disease. The fifth child of Elijah, Ezra, lived all his life at Sandy Hook, Conn. He has descendants living there now and also in Canada. The sixth child of Elijah was Elijah Jr. He was a hatter in Danbury and when he lost his shop there by fire, sometime after 1840, he moved with his family to Patch Grove, Wis., where he became a farmer. Elijah was more reticent and not so active in public affairs as his brother, Henry. Many of his descendants are to be found in the Patch Grove vicinity. The seventh child, Rebecca, married Peter Blizard a hatter. They resided in Danbury. The eighth child, Abigail, died at the age of ten months.

Quinton Patch died in Danbury Feb. 9, 1818, and is buried there in a little cemetery at the head of Main St. The cemetery is no longer used, but has not been disturbed. Quinton was born in 1727 in England and lived to be 91 years of age.

Warren Line

Warren Patch 3 (Thompson 2, Quinton 1) seventh child and sixth son of Mary & Thompson Patch Sr. was born in Danbury, Conn. July 3, 1787. He moved with his thather, Thompson, to Hinesburg, Vt. in the fall of 1796. He was married Dec. 7, 1809 to Miss Susannah Stearns. Susannah was born Feb. 2, 1792, died Jan. 20, 1861. He owned, near Monkton, Vt., a farm of stony pasture, meadow, and woodland; with a brook running across its borders. The work of the farm centered in dairy business - the making of butter and cheese which was sold in New York City at five cents a pound. To assist in this work there were two employees - a man to help with the outside work and his wife to assist with the operations inside. There was an apple orchard and a large garden area where everything which could be stored through the winter was raised. The older children married and moved away. The youngest, Homer, had gone to seek his fortune in Iowa. The second youngest, Benjamin Franklin Partch, married in 1856 and immediately moved in to run the home place; Warren ceased to have the active management of affairs. His wife died in 1861 and was buried in Vermont.

After the close of the Civil War, Benjamin Franklin, feeling the tenseness of the political situation, was anxious to have a part in the developement of the state of Kansas from where glowing reports of the fertility of the soil and good crops had come. In 1867, while personally preferring to remain in the place which had been his home for so long, Warren yielded to the pressure and desire to move west, sold his farm and belongings and went with his son to a farm near Hiawatha, Kansas. He died Mar. 2, 1870 and was buried in Hiwatha, Kansas.

When an older brother, James and his wife died in 1817, leaving a family of six children, Warren and Susannah assumed the care of their infant son, Homer and brought him to maturity. Later, when another brother, Enos, died in 1832, they added two more orphans to their brood - Mary Anne aged ten and Enos Hurlburt, aged seven.

Susannah Stearns was the daughter of John Stearns "Surgeon's Mate" in the War of the Revolution. The Stearns' line has been traced back to the year of 1272. Among the members of this family have been recorded many ministers and professors.

Warren Line

Warren was a man of deep affections, loving and beloved of children. His love extended to his livestock, especially to his horses. One of these a spirited mare was a "fast trotter". He could not bear to sell her, so she was shipped across the Great Lakes and then brought by one of the Partch relatives to Kansas. Warren was a quiet and unassuming man. He was hardy, of good mind, making the most of his advantages. He was deeply religious.

Supplement to original History

PREFACE

This is a supplement to the original history "Quinton Patch of Connecticut and His Descendants" and is to be used as a collateral to that record. In the margin of this book will be found page numbers referring to the original Patch History where the corrections and additions given in this book are to be applied. This Supplement would not be usable without the original record.

The material recorded in this Supplement is compiled from material gathered by various means. Some of the data was sent us by members of the family. Some of the early records were gathered from the following sources: - Vermont State Library; Danbury Probate Judges' Records and Danbury Town Clerks' Records of Danbury, Conn.; Stamford, Conn. Town Clerks' Records; United States Archives and Library of Congress Washington, D. C. Many of these records were verified and added to by checking early United States Census records dating from 1790 to 1850 inclusive. Many names and dates were taken from tombstone inscriptions in cemeteries in Bristol, New Haven and Hinesburg, Vt. and two cemeteries in Danbury, Conn. Another cemetery where I am sure many Patch family graves could be found is in Great Plains District north of Danbury, this is in the Patch settlement close to Quinton's homestead. This is where Susannah Patch Weller widow of Elijah Patch I, is buried. She married Justus Weller after Elijah's death. This is perhaps where Elijah I, and his son Prosper are buried, as well as many more of the Patch family.

On the map in this record is shown Quinton Patch's homestead under the name of B. J. Robinson. Quinton's grandson Prosper Patch owned Quinton's homestead and after Prosper's death his widow married Benjamin J. Robinson and so in 1867 it appears on this map in his name. This farm is described in Quinton's will which is recorded in this book, the farm included 40 Acre Mountain and a 4 acre pine swamp. Today 40 Acre Mt. is on the shore of the beautiful artificial lake, Candlewood Lake which is a fashionable summer resort. Without a doubt the pine swamp is covered by the lake.

At the lower left-hand corner of the map you will find shown the north end of Main St. of Danbury, Conn. also Patch St. and North St. William Patch I, and his son William II, lived on Patch St. At the north end of Main St. close to Patch St. but to the left on top a hill is an old cemetery not in use today (shown on map), here is where Quinton Patch and his son William and William's wife Anna (Hoyt) Patch are buried. It is not known where either of Quinton's wives Mercy or Ruth are buried, Perhaps either in this cemetery or the one in Great Plains District near the homestead. The inscription on Quinton's tombstone is legible and reads as follows; Quinton Patch died Feb. 9, 1818 Ae. 91.

Another cemetery that has many interesting records of the Patch family is Wooster Cemetery in Danbury.

In this record I have shown a diagram of the Baldwin Cemetery located near Hinesburg, Vt. here is recorded the branch of the Patch family that became known as Partch. Here is buried Thompson (Patch) Partch Sr. (Quinton's eldest son) father of the Partch branch, with his wife, 3 sons and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. All these graves are listed and named on the diagram, all have markers with legible inscriptions.

In the early records the old style "s" is often used especially where there are two together. The old style "s" resembles a small "f" so in those instances I have used an "f" to designate an "s".

In the record of Quinton's will some words were not legible, in those instances I have used dashes--- to show words are omitted. I have used the spelling as found. In the inventory of Quinton's personal property where there was a repeat the word "do" is used as we would use "ditto".

As this record is about to go to press word comes of the passing of George E. Partch co-author of the original Patch family history. In tribute to George Partch I wish to add here a paragraph to his biography.

> George Enos Partch passed away March 12, 1951 at his home in Glendale, Calif. George's health had been failing the last 2 or 3 years but he was active up to the time of his death. He attended his church Sunday March 11th. where he taught the Bible Class, that afternoon he was taken ill and passed away the next day. He was buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery in the section set aside by the Presbyterian Church for their "Good and faithful servants" the missionaries. It was my good fortun to learn to know Cousin George. I came to the home of George and his wife Dr. Julia Partch in May 1944 a stranger. I spent two weeks with them and George and I worked on our records for the family history. George was a kind and affectionate man loved by all who knew him. Less than a month after George's death his only child Dr. Wallace Taylor Partch of Oakland, Calif. passed away April 4th.

The basis of George's search for family history was a letter his father Homer Partch received from Homer's "Aunt Clara" Mrs. Ezbon Partch. She gave him a list of his father's sisters and brothers and their children; also records of Quinton and Mary Patch brother and sister who came to America with foster parents. Mrs. Ezbon Partch was my grea-grandmother and so as George and I met through our search for family history it is again; the Warren and Ezbon lines joining in that quest for genealogical records.

George was deeply interested in the completion of this Supplement and I regret his passing before that could be accomplished. But as I complete the Supplement I want to dedicate it to the memory of George Enos Partch who gave so much loving service to the promotion of the family history.

Quinton Patch's will, taken from records of Probate Judge
Danbury, Conn.

To all people who may --- and hereafter be --- know ye that I, Quinton Patch of Danbury in Fairfield county state of Connecticut, being so far advanced in days as to have seen eighty-one years and a half of temporate life yet through the goodness of God indulged and endowed with a sound and --- mind and memory -- at this time with a high sense of the goodness of that God who hath thus graciously --- my life and kindly indulged an --- condition of my mental faculties, and with an awful view of His high prorogative and power over me has --- --- --- by that awful -- from the thrown of ---, that it is appointed for all men to die and return to their natural dust, and not knowing how soon it may please Him in His all wise providence to call me out of time, mindful of that weighty prospect to all men given in His written Word which --- to do justly as well as to His mercy I do at this time make ordain and commit to writing this my last will and testament.

And firstly and principally I do give and resign my precious and immortal soul into the hands of that God, who gave it, hoping and trusting in His mercy, this --- --- for a free pardon and forgiveness of all my many and multiplied sins and transgressions against Him --- and at death my body I commit to the earth, from whence I was taken, therein to be decently buried at the discretion of my executor herein and hereafter by me named and appointed, nothing doubting, but that at the general resurrection in a renewed and spiritual form, I shall regain it again - and now as touching such worldly estate as it hath pleased God to bless me with in this life, I do hereby will and dispose of the same in manner following viz; All my just debts and funeral charges I will to be paid out of my personal estate. And then --- --- I give to my kind and affectionate wife, Ruth the free use and benefit of improvement of the one third of all my real estate, during her natural life --- and likewise the free use and improvement of the one third of what may remain of my personal estate after my just debts and funeral charges are paid and that during her natural life. I also give her one cow and four sheep to be at her disposal --- ---, and that in --- of all other down in my estate ---. Item; I give to my son William ten dollars and to the heir of my three daughter, Viz, Mercy the former wife of Abraham Waring; Polly the former wife of Eleazor Hoyt; Prudence the former wife of Abraham Benedict, (which three daughters are all deceased) and have left heirs, I give their heir, that is to say to the heir of each one several of my fair daughters, I give six dollars and sixty-nine cents to be equally divided and distributed to each and several of them through their respective families.

Item; My will is that all the rest of my residue of my estate both real and personal be divided to and among my four sons who are now living viz; Thompson, William, Ezra, and Elijah in equal proportions, agreeable to my own estimation: my will is that the landed property and all the real estate be divided among them, my four sons, or their heirs (if in case any of them should die before me) in manner following: - Viz: to my oldest son, Thompson Patch, I give locate and set off to him --- of the south and of my pasture lot at Forty Acre Mountain viz; beginning at the south and of the same piece which I have --- and subsequently set off and given to my youngest son, Elijah --- running south so far as to comprehend all the land in mountain lot, excepting and reserving one acre at the southern most extremity of --- Mountain which I have herein and subsequently set off to my son William --- which premises estimate at one hundred-forty-three dollars and ninety-one cents. Likewise I set off give and locate to my son Thompson all my home lot pasture --- adjoining westerly to my home lot meadow which I estimate at one hundred dollars and fifty cents. Likewise I give to my said son Thompson the one fourth part of my lot in the pine swamp, which I estimate at four dollars; the whole of the above described premises amounting to two hundred forty-eight dollars and forty-one cents, which herein will to him as being his fair share of my real estate.

It is my will that my son William Patch shall have one acre of the south and of my mountain pasture lot, it being all the residue of that lot not heretofore in this my will set off to my son Thompson or subsequently to my son Elijah Patch, which I estimate at thirteen dollars and thirty-four cents. Likewise I will give to him the said William, the --- of the lot known by the name of the Hoyt lot which I estimate at twenty-two dollars. It is my will that my son William have all the south and of my home lot meadow three acres and three --- which I estimate at one hundred sixty-nine dollars and seventy- cents. And lastly it is my will that my son William shall have set off to him the one fourth part of my lot at the pine swamp; the whole of which premises amounting in my estimation to two hundred forty-eight dollars and forty-one cents, is what I will and hereby set off to him to --- to be his whole share of my real estate; and like answering to satisfy for the particular legacy of ten dollars, herein and heretofore mentioned in this my last will and testament.

And nextly:- It is my will that my son, Ezra have one acre of the whole of the residue of my home lot meadow which hath not been herein and heretofore set off to my son William, which I now estimate at seventy-five dollars; and I likewise set off to him the said Ezra three acres and fifty rods of land at the north and of my house lot together with my mansion and all the ap---- there unto belonging, which I estimate at one hundred sixty-nine dollars forty-one cents; likewise I give him the said Ezra one fourth part of my pine swamp lot which I estimate at four dollars --- the which of the above premises amounting to two hundred forty-eight dollars and forty-one cents, which I will to be his share of my real estate. Fourthly and lastly I give my youngest son, Elijah Patch, the whole of my south lot, amounting to three acres and a half, which I estimate at twenty dollars and likewise it is my will to give to him the said Elijah the whole of my residue of my home lot not heretofore and herein located and by will given to my son Ezra, estimated by me at sixty-two dollars; likewise it is my will that he have the north end of my pasture lot at the Forty Acre Mountain --- upon the west by highway and running south by --- highway just sixteen rods from an ancient stake, an oak stump north of the brook --- running a northeasterly direction to a spring, keeping north of said spring ---- to let the spring into --- a lot heretofore set off to and herein willed to my son Thompson Patch, ---- running easterly to my east line to a pile of stones. The above described premises being in my estimation worth one hundred twelve dollars and forty-one cents; likewise I give him by this my will one fourth part of my pine swamp lot; the whole of the above premises by me set off to my said son, Elijah amounting to two hundred forty-eight dollars and forty-one cents; which I account his share in my real estate. And lastly I do --- and appoint my two sons

William Patch and Elijah Patch executors of this my last will and testament hereby --- making null and void all the wills or will heretofore made by me; and establishing this and this only to be my last will and testament. Now in testimony --- I have hereunto set my hand and seal in Danbury on the --- day of July year 1810.

Correction on record of Quinton Patch's daughters.

In the original history of "Quinton Patch of Connecticut & Descendants" we recorded two daughters; Rebecca and Sally. The record of Sally was found in an old family record written by Ezra Patch, son of Elijah and grandson of Quinton. Since Quinton's daughters were all deceased before 1810 when Quinton made his will and his grandson Ezra wasn't born until 1807 I don't believe he was any authority on the names of his aunts. I think the only one he named, Sally was perhaps Polly instead of Sally. Polly is mentioned in her father's will. In early American records we find Polly used as a nickname for Mary.

Quinton's will names Mercy, Polly and Prudence all of which were deceased in 1810 leaving heirs which Quinton left a legacy to. Quinton didn't mention his eldest daughter Rebecca in his will which was perhaps due to the fact she was deceased and didn't leave heirs. Rebecca Patch dau. of Quinton & Mercy Patch was born in Stamford, Conn. July 17, 1748 and was baptized Sept. 11, 1748 in the First Congregational Church. Rebecca Patch dau. of Quinton married Ebenezer Judd Aug. 9, 1770. Rebecca Patch Judd died April 17, 1791. Last two items recorded in Danbury Town Clerk's office.
Prudence Patch dau. of Quinton & Mercy married Abraham Benedict who was born in 1721, Prudence died March 1780 leaving one child, Ezra. (Unless there is an error in the record of Abraham's year of birth, he was older than Prudence's father.) Prudence died young and Abraham married twice after that. Abraham d. April 14, 1798 at Danbury.
We have no further record of Quinton's daughters Mercy and Polly except that in their father's will; telling who they married and that they were deceased leaving heirs in 1810 when he made his will.

Abigail Ann may have been Oliver's second wife as the following record appears on the Danbury Town Records: Sarah Patch & Oliver P. Clark m. Aug. 31, 1837 by Rev. Salmon C. Buckley. The birth record of the youngest daughter reads; daughter of Oliver P. & Sarah Clark. The marriage record of Julia the second daughter reads: dau. of Oliver P. & Sarah N. Clark. No record found of Abigail's marriage to Oliver or birth of children to Abigail but she is recorded with Oliver P. Clark's family on Census for 1860 & 1870. However Oliver is not recorded on Census for 1860 with his family, he was apparently with the military forces at the time, as he is listed on the Census for 1870 with Abigail and two of his daughter. (Oliver's first wife Sarah may have been a sister or cousin of Abigail)

  A. Mary A. Clark (recorded with Oliver's family on both 1860 & 1870 Census, age 20 on 1860 Census, no further record found to identify her a dau. or a servant) a hat trimmer.

I. John Patch (We have no definite proof of this son of Ezra, but letters of a daughter of Charles Lewis mentions Uncle John dying and leaving two orphans for his mother to raise. John's mother lived at Van Buren, N. Y.) In that vicinity in an old cemetery is found a marker reading; Nancy or Mary, consort of John Patch died Apr. 29, 1820 age 25 yr. 8 mo. 29 da. The Waterman Family History gives the will of John Patch of Camillus, N. Y. husband of Nancy or Mary Waterman, dated Feb. 4, 1829 giving all his property to his son Horace Patch & his daughter Harriet Patch.

II. Ira Hoyt Patch became a doctor and located at Van Buren, N. Y. He married and had 3 children. He died in 1830 or 31 while his brother Charles Lewis Patch and family lived at Van Buren. About 1826 Ira went to Alabama to visit his father who was divorced Ira's mother and had remarried and had children in Alabama.

III. Charles Lewis Patch lived in Danbury and was a hatter until the fall of 1829. Charles Lewis was b. Sept. 20, 1786, he m. Catherine Husted who was b. Mar. 6, 1788 and d. Apr. 7, 1857. Charles d. Apr. 21, 1835. The family made the trip by stage to Norwalk, by boat to New York City, by river steamer to Albany, by canal to Belle Isle then by stage to Van Buren, N. Y. In Oct. 1831 they left Van Buren, N. Y. to locate in northern Ohio. The two eldest sons went by steamer on Lake Erie taking the household goods, first by stage to Belle Isle then by canal to Buffalo and thence by steamer on Lake Erie to settle in Milan, Ohio. The rest of the family made the trip with their own horses and wagons traveling along the lake shore, stopping at night at taverns along the road.

IV. Ezra Patch Jr. (Azar or Zar) was perhaps the youngest of Ezra Patch Sr.'s four sons. I think he is recorded on the U. S. Census for 1810 with his brother Charles Lewis' family both of them between the ages of 16 and 26 yrs. On the 1820 Census Ezra Jr. is recorded with a wife and 5 children; 2 boys and 3 girls all under 10 yrs. of age.

In the Probate Judge's files, of Danbury is the following record without a date; - Zar Patch, son of Ezra late of Danbury but who several years since absconded out of the United States, a minor about 17 yrs. makes choice of his Uncle William Patch of Danbury for his guardian.

A family record written by a first cousin of Zar another Ezra Patch son of Elijah I, says that Zar Patch a hatter moved from Danbury, Conn. to northern Ohio. His brother Charles Lewis' descendants have no knowledge of his locating at Milan or Clarksfield where Chas. Lewis located but he may have. He may have located at Canfield, Ohio where another first cousin located or elsewhere in Ohio. We have no further record of this Ezra and his descendants.
